

PHARAOH

Design by Studio Catoir

Description

The Pharaoh suspended ceiling light is a homage to Michael Jackson, whom many consider to have been the King of Pop. It was the stylised circular hairstyle of the Egyptian bust which gave Elisa and Michael Catoir the inspiration for the shade of the Pharaoh ceiling light. Its steel framework replicates that truncated shape whilst the fabric covering reproduces its undulations thanks to bands of horizontal quilting. Supplied with 1 x 23W E27 compact fluo globe bulb Ø 120 (equivalent to a 115W incandescent bulb), colour 827 (warm white).

- Shade in quilted fabric gold-coloured Sudden on the interior and ecru-coloured Tempête on the exterior. The two zips are gold-coloured and the structure is finished in gold lacquer. 2 m electric cable covered in gold-coloured fabric.

- Shade in quilted fabric silver-coloured Sudden on the interior and argent-coloured Pause on the exterior. The two zips are grey to match the exterior, whilst the structure is finished in silver lacquer. 2 m electric cable covered in silver-coloured fabric.

THIS LIGHT IS SOLD WITH AN ENERGY CLASS A BULB.

IT IS COMPATIBLE WITH BULBS FROM ENERGY CLASSES A++ TO E.
